Welcome to PCA

All teachers and staff at PCA warmly welcome you to our campus. We are delighted that you have chosen to study at PCA and to live with a host family. Our goal is for each student to have a positive, supportive and enriching experience with their host family. Please know that the host family you have been placed with has specifically requested an international student to live with them because they value the experience their family will have by living with you. Your host family wants to learn about you, your native language and your culture. To make this a good experience for both you and your host family, we have provided some information in this handbook to guide you through the many experiences you will have living and studying in the United States. Please read the information carefully and please ask any and all questions you have.

What we believe about youth

The Christian faith teaches us about how to value and train young people. We believe the following (with verses from the Holy Bible):

- All people are created in the image of God.
“So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them.” Genesis 1:27
- All people are created with a purpose.
“For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope.” Jeremiah 29:11
“for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.”
Philippians 2:13
- All people are given talents and gifts from God.
“To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.” 1 Corinthians 12:7
- All people are created equal in God’s eyes.
“There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is no male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus.” Galatians 3:28

Whether you are in the classroom or at home with a family, you can expect to be treated with respect, compassion, grace and Christian love, and that in all situations we will seek truth and goodness.

What to expect in an American family

Many families in America have different traditions, habits and styles. In general, most American parents love and support their children and place high priority on the educational, social, physical and spiritual development of their children. Many American parents try to balance teaching their children directly and letting their children learn on their own so that the children will develop confidence and independence. Most American families value the family unit, but also nurture the individuality of their children. Although it can be common for extended family members (grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins) to live in different states, most American families take care of their relatives and make special efforts to spend time together, especially during holidays or vacations.

What to expect in a Christian family

Many families have different traditions, habits and styles, even in the Christian faith. In general, most Christian families attend church together once or twice a week, may be involved in service/volunteer projects at church or in the community, will read the Bible together, will sing and pray together, will talk openly about how the Christian faith relates to what each family member is experiencing on a daily or weekly basis. Most Christian parents teach their children how to make wise and positive choices about the things that influence their children, such as music, TV programs, movies, Internet, video games, activities, friends, etc. Most Christian parents set boundaries and limitations on their children. For example, children might be allowed to socialize with friends in the evenings, but they will be required to be home by a certain time. Children might also be given time limits on how much time per day they can spend on video games, the Internet, etc. Even though most Christian parents allow their children to participate in many events individually, the parents typically seek to know all about the event such as location, other participants, contact information, detailed schedule of event, etc. Most parents want to know where their children are and what they are doing at all times to ensure availability in the event of emergency, to ensure safety for the children and to monitor the experiences their children are having. It is very common for families to spend time together going to sporting events, movies, concerts, out to restaurants, playing games at home together, etc. as well.

Primary Expectations of Homestay Students

Orientation

Orientation will be a time for the student to come to PCA and get to know the faculty, staff and other students. The time will be spent familiarizing oneself with PCA and the neighboring communities.

Discipline Structure and Administrative Prerogative

Homestay students are under the direct care and supervision of PCA and the assigned homestay family parents. Homestay students must respectfully comply with all rules and expectations of the family in which they are living. These rules and expectations are to be communicated to the students through each family's Family Covenant. Homestay students are expected to abide fully by the Family Covenant of their particular homestay family. Homestay parents are authorized to exercise discipline over the student just as they would their own children and in a way that is consistent with the Family Covenant and PCA regulations. Failure to comply with the rules and expectations of the homestay parents may result in consequences up to and including the student's expulsion from Plymouth Christian Academy. Grievances with the Family Covenant should be first shared with the homestay parents. If a resolution cannot be reached, students need to appeal to the Homestay Coordinator. The PCA administration retains at its sole discretion the prerogative to assign specific consequences up to and including homestay related offenses warranting up to an expulsion with no refund.

Behavior and Standards of Conduct

Prior to leaving the home country, the student's parents should discuss the importance of good behavior with their student and ensure the he or she understands the significance of acting in a manner that will reflect well on his or her family and country.

All students must obey the laws of the United States of America and the states where they live and visit. A student found violating the law will be returned home at his/her family's own expense as soon as the student is released by the authorities.

Students must read, sign, and obey the Plymouth Christian Academy student code of conduct. Students violating the code of conduct will be held accountable according to the policies of PCA.

US law strictly forbids the consumption of alcohol for anyone under the age of 21. Students must refrain from the possession or use of alcoholic beverages, narcotics (unless prescribed by a physician), or illegal drugs at all times, including non-school hours. Smoking or the use of any tobacco product is forbidden. Violation of these standards will constitute grounds for immediate dismissal from Plymouth Christian Academy.

All students must abstain from sexual activity. Romantic involvement or dating is discouraged. International students may not take any action that may change the nature of his or her life (e.g., become engaged or married).

Students must not possess any type of firearm - including BB or pellet guns, paintball guns, airsoft guns, switchblades, bows and arrows, explosive devices, martial arts weapons, fireworks, or any other weapon considered illegal or dangerous.

Lewd, indecent or obscene conduct will not be tolerated and will result in disciplinary action. This includes possession or display of pornographic material in any form.

Slander, profane language, physical or verbal abuse of any person will not be tolerated and will result in disciplinary action.

Theft or vandalism of PCA, public, or private property will result in disciplinary action.

Software piracy is a theft and the unauthorized copying or duplication of licensed computer software is a violation of federal law and may expose the individual and PCA to legal processes.

All students are expected to do their own work and refrain from plagiarizing the work of others. When writing a research paper, students must provide citations and bibliographic information. If you do not know how to correctly cite sources, you will need to ask your English teachers for help. Students may not use an editor for any work turned in under their name unless approved in advance in writing by the instructor.

Students and families agree to support the Plymouth Christian Academy staff in its goals, procedures, and discipline policies, and understand that PCA is a private institution reserving the right to cancel the enrollment of any student who does not abide by the Plymouth Christian Academy standards and requirements. Students whose enrollment has been canceled will have 30 days to leave the United States, at their own expense, and their SEVIS record will be terminated.

Students are expected to cooperate fully with the dress and grooming standards of Plymouth Christian Academy.

Student Complaint Procedure

It is common for misunderstandings or even problems to arise. More important, however, is that you understand how to get help when needed. For any problem, concern or complaint you have about your host family, please follow the steps below:

1. Talk directly to your host parent(s). Even if this seems too direct, Americans value directness and will want to know immediately if you are having any kind of difficulty.
2. If you talk with your host parent(s) and are not satisfied with the outcome, talk to the International Homestay Coordinator.
3. If you talk to the Homestay Coordinator and you are not satisfied with the outcome, talk to the Superintendent.

Changing Homestay Families

Changing homestay families is not generally permitted during the school year. Homestay students and families are asked to make a one-year commitment to the homestay arrangement at the beginning of each school year. Homestay arrangements are reviewed by the International Homestay Coordinator in the spring of each school year in order to make timely placements for the following school year. Students who desire a change in their homestay arrangement for the following school year must appeal to the International Homestay Coordinator either verbally or in writing by the end of April.

There are extenuating circumstances that do allow for the changing of families during the course of a school year. A student seeking an immediate change in their homestay arrangement during the course of the school year must submit a written appeal to the International Homestay Coordinator. Circumstances warranting a mid-year change may include but are not limited to harassment, abuse, ongoing and irresolvable family conflict, life changes in the homestay family's situation, etc.

The Homestay program reserves the right to grant or refuse a student's desire to change families both during the school year and over the summer. All homestay family assignments are made at the discretion of the Homestay program and the PCA administration reserves the right to remove students from a homestay situation immediately and without warning if necessary.

Students who demonstrate an inability to adapt to homestay arrangements may be asked not to return to PCA or may be dismissed from PCA at any time if deemed necessary by the PCA administration. Students who regularly request or seek changes in homestay family placements may be asked not to return to PCA or may be dismissed from PCA at any time if deemed necessary by the PCA administration.

End-of-Year Procedures

In May of each school year, homestay students will be required to complete a Homestay Student Survey. These online surveys are used to assist PCA in making adjustments to the homestay program that will benefit students, homestay families, and the PCA administration. These surveys are confidential in nature.

Students must also make sure to have their I-20 visas signed and dated by mid-May. Summer travel plans must be turned in to the host family as well as the International Homestay Coordinator. International students must return to their home country within 5 days of the last day of school.

Homestay Program Regulations

Airport Information

PCA Homestay students are required to fly in and out of the Detroit Metro (DTW) Airport. Students are required to inform both the Homestay Coordinator and their homestay family of all departure and arrival dates and times. Homestay families are responsible for providing transportation to and from the airport. More information is available on the airport website at <http://www.metroairport.com/>.

Documentation

When traveling inside the U.S., you should always take your passport with you.

Immunizations

The State of Michigan requires immunizations for students attending school. The homestay student will need to provide proof of immunizations as part of the application process. Please see attached Immunizations spreadsheet listing these requirements.

Transportation and Use of Vehicles

Transportation of the homestay student should be provided by the homestay family. This requires advanced planning on the student's part as the homestay family needs to plan ahead to meet the needs of all family members. Homestay students may only ride in vehicles driven by any PCA homestay parent, a high school student driver from their personal homestay home with natural parents' permission, an official PCA approved driver, or an official church approved driver. Homestay students are not permitted to ride with any other drivers without the express permission (i.e., dual enrollment, college visit etc.) of the Homestay Coordinator.

On occasion, the homestay student might want to travel with another family or friends to local or regional events. The driver must be approved by the Homestay Coordinator or homestay family.

The metropolitan Detroit area as well as the Plymouth-Canton area does not have a public transportation system. International students are not allowed to utilize Uber or similar services, nor are they allowed to hitchhike.

English Language Use

Most international students enrolled in the PCA Homestay Program exhibit a need to improve their English language skill to some degree. For this reason PCA requests that students use

English as much as possible while at PCA (except when studying or practicing another foreign language being studied by the student).

Out of common courtesy, when in a group of people who do not all speak the same non-English language, English should be the exclusive language used by all members of the group. Speaking in a language other than English when all listeners cannot understand can be interpreted as rude and disrespectful in American culture and may result in alienating people from each other.

Most Americans are interested in other cultures and languages and enjoy hearing international students speak, even with an accent. Do not be shy about your English, or your native language. Many Americans will be curious about your language and could ask you how to say certain words or phrases in your native language. This is a great opportunity to share your language and culture with your new friends.

Student communication with their parents (via phone or computer) in the student's native language is allowed. Homestay parents have the right to ask a student to move to another location in the home if the student's conversation with his or her parent(s) is interfering with the home environment. Otherwise, students are expected to speak English at all times while at home or with the homestay family.

Cell Phone Use

Many American homes utilize cell phones for family communication. The student is responsible to discuss with the homestay family whether or not the use of a cell phone is expected or preferred. The student is responsible to pay for his or her own cell phone plan and/or use. Any exceptions to this must be negotiated with the homestay family directly.

A personal cell phone must be provided to each International student by the natural parents. This will cost approximately $500 for the year depending on the service plan. If the student wants to purchase a cell phone or the plan in the U.S., the host family will be happy to help the student to do this.

Homestay families reserve the right to monitor a student's cell phone use and may restrict the student's cell phone use in a manner consistent with the Family Covenant. The student should discuss any expectations regarding cell phone use with the homestay family upon arrival into the home. The student needs to clearly understand when and where cell phone use is acceptable or unacceptable.

Dress/Attire with Homestay family

When in the home or involved in family life, students should dress in a manner consistent with homestay parent expectations. Homestay parents reserve the right to decide what is acceptable or unacceptable while living with their family. The student should always be sensitive to other members of the household as well as to family values. Clothing is to be purchased by the student and is not the responsibility of the homestay family to purchase clothing for the student. In general, most American teenagers wear jeans and tops that are modest. Some examples of clothing that might not be acceptable are shirts that show too much of the stomach or abdomen, pants that are worn too low or that reveal undergarments, clothing with negative images/words/symbols.

Personal Hygiene

Americans are concerned about cleanliness. Most Americans bathe or shower at least once a day. Overseas, bathing customs differ. Many cultures do not bathe as often as Americans do. If you do not bathe more than three or four times a week, your host family and friends may become offended by your body odor. The same applies to washing and changing clothes. Americans change their outfits daily and usually wash their clothes after each wearing. Be sensitive about how you look and smell. Appearance is very important to Americans. Students at school may avoid you if you neglect your personal hygiene.

It is important that you also practice oral hygiene. Most Americans will brush their teeth several times during the day: first thing in the morning, after meals and before bedtime.

When using the bathroom, it is important that you also make sure to practice cleanliness. This includes self-care as well as flushing the toilet after each use, wiping down the seat and/or floor area if any bodily fluids are present, and for females, to carefully dispose of menstrual materials.

Chores/Domestic Duties

The student may be expected to participate in the family domestic structure, including assigned chores around the home, as most members of the family have one or more assigned chores on a daily or weekly basis. The student is not to be a servant to the home, but is to act with a heart of service to others in the home by doing what is expected to help around the home. The student should offer to assist with duties such as washing dishes, cleaning their room, doing laundry, etc. Some families may assign specific household duties to each child in the home. Specific domestic duty expectations should usually be communicated through the Family Covenant. Homestay students are expected to participate in this household structure with the appropriate attitude.

A student who feels he or she is being asked to do an excessive amount of work should first talk directly to the homestay family. If the student continues to feel unfairly treated, he or she may talk to the Homestay Coordinator.

Damage to the Home

The student is responsible for any damage caused to the homestay family's property (beyond normal wear and tear. furniture, walls, flooring, etc.). The student must settle these damages with the homestay family directly within 30 days. These situations will be mediated by the Homestay Coordinator.

Money

Students will be expected to have their own credit card to make purchases. It is important to also have access to U.S. currency for cash transactions.

Included as part of tuition payment:

Tuition and fees to attend PCA

Rent

Utilities in the home

Food for breakfast, lunch, dinner (see Meals section for further clarification)

Transportation or gasoline costs unless for a special trip

Homestay students DO have to pay for:

Personal toiletries

Clothing

Entertainment

Special foods, snacks, drinks

Souvenirs

Extra-curricular activities

Personal cell phone and provider plan

Medical insurance and medical expenses not covered by insurance

Bedtimes & Quiet Hours

Most American families set fairly strict rules for their own children. If you are used to a great deal of independence and freedom in your home country, be prepared to change your lifestyle. Students are expected to follow their homestay family's bedtimes as well as respect quiet or study hours in the home. Students should understand that each family may vary in expectations regarding study or quiet hours and bedtime. Some families require students to be in bed with lights out by a specific time in the evening. Students are to respect whatever the family requirements are for their homestay. Students are expected to communicate their needs for quiet hours with their host parents and to establish an agreed upon policy regarding study or quiet hours and bedtime, which will be stated in the Family Covenant. Any changes to this agreement must be requested to the homestay parents directly.

Visitors to the Homestay

Homestay parents must grant permission in advance in order to host visitors of the student. Visitors of the opposite gender cannot stay overnight under any circumstances and are not allowed in the student bedroom area. Out-of-town visitors (e.g., parents, siblings, family, and friends) are expected to obtain their own lodging outside of the homestay home unless the homestay parents specifically invite the visitors to stay in the homestay home.

Students who have visitors coming to the Detroit Metro area are required to notify their homestay parents and the Homestay Coordinator of the visit as early as possible. Visitors should not impact the student's normal activities (e.g., school, studying, and other activities). Any change in schedule due to visitors should be discussed with the homestay parents and the International Homestay Coordinator in advance.

Socializing & Dating

The public display of any sort of romantic affection — hand-holding and kissing, for example — is not allowed. Students are encouraged to develop healthy friendships. Homestay students will abstain from all sexual activity. Any romantic involvement or dating is not allowed. Homestay students may not take any action that may change the nature of his or her life such as becoming engaged or married.

International students who attend the homecoming dance, barn dance and/or prom, must be in groups and not as a “couple date.” One-on-one dating is not allowed. Homestay students must also get approval from their host parents or the Homestay Coordinator to attend dances or group dates.

Meals

Homestay students can expect to be given three meals per day by their homestay families, including lunches on school days. Some families may choose to send a bag lunch with their homestay student while others may prefer to place money on a lunch account and allow the homestay student to purchase lunch at school.

When homestay families eat together the homestay student is expected to participate in the meal as a family member. Homestay students may volunteer to help prepare some meals for the family and may request specific food on occasion. However, meals are determined by the Host Parents in a manner consistent with their family guidelines and household expectations. Homestay students are not to avoid family meals, whether at home or eating out.

Homestay student cooking should be done in the kitchen with the permission and supervision of the homestay parents. No cooking is permitted in a homestay student's room.

Cooking

Student cooking should be done in the kitchen with the express permission of the homestay parents. Clean-up must occur immediately after meals, and any leftovers or other food must be kept in a properly sealed container and refrigerated as needed. Students must get permission from the homestay parents before using any cooking utensils or appliances. All students cooking should be done under the supervision of the homestay parents.

Church Attendance

Homestay students are required to attend church with their homestay family. Some families may choose to attend church functions more frequently than others. Church attendance is not optional.

Some of the churches attended by our PCA family include:

Calvary Baptist Church: www.cbcjoy.org

Northridge: www.northridgechurch.com

Life Church: www.lifechurchcanton.org

Berean Bible Church: www.bereanbible.net

Oak Pointe Church: www.oakpointe.org

Trinity Presbyterian Church: www.trinityepc.org

Ward Presbyterian Church: www.wardchurch.org

Solid Rock Bible Church: www.solidrockplymouth.org

Connection Church: www.connectionchurch.info

Technology

Students are expected to leave the room door open when using technology and the computer screen should be faced to the room door. Homestay parents reserve the right to determine appropriate study areas and areas where technology devices are on or off-limits to the student. Homestay parents reserve the right (and are strongly encouraged) to monitor all computer activity through the use of internet filters or other filtering programs as outlined in the Family Covenant. This is to ensure the safety of all students and not meant to invade the privacy of the students.

Students are required to turn off all electrical devices at bedtime (if one is prescribed in the Family Covenant) or 11 p.m. (whichever is earlier). Students may occasionally request permission from the homestay parents for late night with technology for academic purposes or for communication with family/friends in their home country. Homestay parents will make reasonable efforts to grant access for such purposes but reserve the right to grant or deny such a privilege as they see fit. Students are responsible to follow all family guidelines regarding technology use as prescribed in the Family Covenant.

Medical Insurance

Students must obtain health insurance with companies in the U.S. through the student's agency or PCA. If any student plans to remain in the United States during the summer, medical insurance coverage must be extended at an additional cost to the student. The medical insurance provided offers excellent coverage of most physician visits and other accident or sickness medical expenses. However, medical insurance does not usually cover 100% of all medical bills or in the case of large or expensive medical procedures. Students are responsible to purchase any necessary medication or prescriptions, such expenses are not always covered by medical insurance and maybe expensive in the U.S.

Sports Eligibility

PCA is a member of the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA). International students must meet all other eligibility requirements found in MHSAA Bylaws and the Secondary Student Handbook found on the school website: www.plymouthchristian.org. To determine if you are eligible to participate in a sport, please contact the Athletic Director.

Weather

Temperatures in Michigan vary greatly depending on the season. It is wise to bring clothes that you can layer and to be prepared for all types of weather conditions. It will be hot in August when homestay students arrive and will start to cool during September. Winters include snow and slush so a warm coat, boots, gloves, and hat are necessary.

Below are average temperature ranges for the seasons:

Summer (June - August):	70 - 95 degrees Fahrenheit
Fall (September - November):	40 - 70 degrees Fahrenheit
Winter (December - February):	0 - 40 degrees Fahrenheit
Spring (March - May):	40 - 70 degrees Fahrenheit

Federal Holidays

Federal law establishes the following public holidays for federal employees. If the holiday falls during the weekend, it may be observed on a different day. Many government offices are closed on federal holidays and some private businesses may close as well. If you plan to visit a government office on or around a federal holiday, you should contact them to determine when they will be open.

New Year's Day

New Year's Day is January 1. The celebration of this holiday begins the night before, when Americans gather to wish each other a happy and prosperous coming year. Many Americans make New Year's resolutions. Some popular resolutions include losing weight, volunteering, get out of debt, manage stress, read Bible on a daily basis, etc.

Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Day is celebrated on the third Monday in January. The Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. was an African-American clergyman who is recognized for his tireless efforts to win civil rights for all people through nonviolent means.

Washington's Birthday

Washington's Birthday is observed the third Monday of February in honor George Washington, the first President of the United States. This date is commonly called Presidents' Day and many groups honor the legacy of past presidents on this date.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day is observed the last Monday of May. It originally honored the people killed in the American Civil War, but has become a day on which the American dead of all wars are remembered.

Independence Day

Independence Day is July 4. This holiday honors the nation's birthday - the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. It is a day of picnics and patriotic parades, a night of concerts, and fireworks.

Labor Day

Labor Day is the first Monday of September. This holiday honors the nation's working people, typically with parades. For most Americans it marks the end of the summer vacation season and the start of the school year.

Columbus Day

Columbus Day is a celebrated on the second Monday in October. The day commemorates October 12, 1492, when Italian navigator Christopher Columbus landed in the New World. The holiday was first proclaimed in 1937 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Veterans Day

Veterans Day is celebrated on November 11. This holiday was originally called Armistice Day and established to honor Americans who had served in World War I. It now honors veterans of all wars in which the U.S. has fought. Veterans' organizations hold parades, and the president places a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknowns at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day is celebrated on the fourth Thursday in November. In the fall of 1621, the Pilgrims held a three-day feast to celebrate a bountiful harvest. Many regard this event as the nation's first Thanksgiving. The Thanksgiving feast became a national tradition and almost always includes some of the foods served at the first feast: roast turkey, cranberry sauce, potatoes, and pumpkin pie.

Christmas Day

Christmas Day is a celebrated on December 25. Christmas is a Christian holiday marking the birth of the Christ Child. Decorating houses and yards with lights, putting up Christmas trees, giving gifts, and sending greeting cards have become holiday traditions even for many non-Christian Americans.

Other Celebrations and Observances

There are many commonly observed celebrations in the United States that are not federal holidays. Some of these observances honor groups of people, such as National African American History Month and Women's History Month, or causes, such as National Oceans Month and National Substance Abuse Prevention Month. Many of these holidays and observances are proclaimed by the President every year.

Below are some of the most popular American celebrations and observances that occur every year.

Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day is celebrated on February 14. The day was named after an early Christian martyr, and on Valentine's Day, Americans give presents like candy or flowers to the ones they love. The first mass-produced valentine cards were sold in the 1840s.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day is the second Sunday of May. President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation in 1914 that started the holiday. He asked Americans to give a public expression of reverence to mothers on this day. Carnations have come to represent Mother's Day, following President William McKinley's habit of always wearing a white carnation, his mother's favorite flower.

Father's Day

Father's Day celebrates fathers every third Sunday of June. Father's Day began in 1909 in Spokane, Washington, when a daughter requested a special day to honor her father, a Civil War veteran who raised his children after his wife died. The first presidential proclamation honoring fathers was issued in 1966 by President Lyndon Johnson.

Halloween

Halloween is celebrated on October 31. On Halloween, American children dress up in funny or scary costumes and go "trick or treating" by knocking on doors in their neighborhood. The neighbors are expected to respond by giving them small gifts of candy or money.

Ethnic and Religious Holidays

Various ethnic and religious groups in the United States celebrate days with special meaning to them even though these are not national holidays. For example, Christians celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ on Easter, Jews observe their high holy days in September, and Muslims celebrate Ramadan. There are many other religious and ethnic celebrations in the United States.

Cultural Holidays

At Plymouth Christian, we acknowledge that there may be certain holidays that are celebrated in your home country that are not widely celebrated in the United States. Some of these holidays include time off from school or vacation. Unfortunately, we are not able to allot that time off of school in the U.S., but we would love to hear ideas of how we may celebrate these events with you.

The policies and procedures of the Plymouth Christian Academy Homestay Program are subject to revision and change at any time as deemed appropriate by the PCA administration. Individuals will be notified of such revisions and changes in a timely manner, should they occur.

Required Immunizations

Required Childhood Immunizations for Michigan School Settings

School communicable disease rules are the minimum standard for preventing disease outbreaks in school settings. To best protect patients from all diseases we have the power to prevent, healthcare providers in Michigan should follow the 2014 Recommended Immunization Schedule at www.cdc.gov/vaccines or www.michigan.gov/immunize.

**All doses of vaccines must be given with appropriate spacing between doses and at appropriate ages to be considered valid.**
 *Current laboratory evidence of immunity is acceptable instead of immunization with antigen.*

Entry Requirements for All Public & Non-Public Schools

Family Covenant

Welcome to our Family! Our family believes in The Bible and loves God and others. We will treat you like one of our own children, but also as a guest in our home and country. We enjoy spending time together as a family for meals. We also enjoy sharing new experiences with you. We believe that this exposes you to our American culture and helps you to learn English better. We will show love and respect for you and would ask that you do the same for us. Please come to us if there is something you need as you would with your own family. We are more than happy to help with school work or problems or to take you places that you need or want to go. We want you to know that we are always available for you if you have a need or are just missing your home. We want you to feel safe and comfortable in our home and like a part of our family!

These are expectations we have while living in our home:

1. Household chores: We will encourage our student to participate in household chores such as keeping their room neat and clean; helping with their own laundry; picking up after themselves; helping our other children with the weekly garbage and helping with meals and dishes.
2. Household items: We want our student to become familiar with proper usage of items such as television, appliances, etc. before using them independently.
3. Communication and attitude: We believe that proper communication and a respectful attitude towards one another is vital in a loving family. We want our student to have open communication with us in regards to school work, upcoming school projects, things that we may need to help with, etc. If our student wants to make plans with friends, we ask that they check with us first to make sure our schedule works with theirs. Knowing early about needed school supplies, church activities, or plans with friends is very important.
4. Punctuality: We will expect our student to get themselves up and be ready for school each day and church on Sundays in order to leave the house at a specific scheduled time. Bedtime will usually be no later than 11:00 p.m. on school nights since all family members have to get up early each morning.
5. Beliefs-We are a Christian family and we go to church on a regular basis. It is expected for you to attend church as the International Homestay Program requires, but you are welcome to go with us anytime. We ask that you respect our beliefs and do understand that you may have your own religious beliefs. We welcome questions about our beliefs.
6. Love and Respect-We ask that you respect us and we will love and respect you.
7. Internet and Social Media-You are welcome to use the Wi-Fi in our home for the internet and social media sites. However, we ask that you do not use the internet or social media for things like gambling, pornography or adult websites or post any pictures of yourself or others that are not appropriate or fully clothed. We also ask that you do not post any profanity on social media websites. There should be no phone, computer, or internet usage from 11:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. unless special permission is given.
8. Clothing-We respect your ability to show your personality through your clothing choices, but ask that clothing be modest and not have profanity or inappropriate pictures on it.

We look forward to having you join our family. We want to make you feel loved, cared for, and to enjoy your experience here.
